

Have you or your colleagues excelled in clinical practice this year?

The BJA Awards is now accepting entries for 2012

The Awards 2012

The BJA Awards celebrate and reward excellence in clinical nursing. The awards are not just a glitzy affair and an excuse for a party – they are also a time to recognise the immense talent, professionalism and innovation among the nursing workforce. At a time when staff and expenditure cutbacks are inevitably affecting morale, the BJA Awards 2012 are a celebration of achievement, a reminder of the reasons you nurse, and an infusion of encouragement to inspire continued enthusiasm for the nursing profession.

The Awards Ceremony

Finalists will be invited to attend a glittering black tie ceremony at the Landmark Hotel, London on 30 March, 2012. Prizes will be awarded in 12 categories and an evening of leading guest speakers, dinner and dancing will follow.
